

Bottom 10 stations in the city for starting a journey

It can be observed from the analysis that these are the least popular Citi Bike locations to start a journey. This may be because these areas are in the suburban, less populated and low economic activities which demand labor force in the city.

